

The Oz Electorate is Awake to 'show pony,' 'do-nothing,' Kevin Rudd

It seems second time around PM Kevin Rudd has become all too familiar to the Oz population, which appears to have wakened to the fact that narcissist (NPD) Rudd is all bells, whistles, smoke, mirrors and very little substance/governing/action! In fact, they are the reasons, including his self-willed control freak tendencies, he was so ungraciously knifed in the back by LYING, dishonest, traitorous (5 U.S. bases) reviled bitch, Juliar Gillard, who stole his job.

Two lackeys to the Plutocrats in appropriate poses

The people clearly want substance not hot air and cheesy fake smiles which Rudd cranks-up for photo-ops, his favourite occupation!

Fakes like Rudd do not do well second time around for obvious reasons; however, do not be deceived or cajoled by the slogan addicted conservatives who have little or no policies other than slashing everything and introducing Oz to European and US style austerity -- for no GOOD reason! Never forget that Oz continues to make trillions in profits for Banks and Transnational Mining companies that engage in EXPLOITING/raping/plundering our nation.

Opposition leader Tony 'slasher' Abbott may defend the fact that he's been handed a slash list by ruling Plutocrats, but reality and the facts remain.

So the REAL question is will the Oz electorate be duped and sucked into an American style two candidate race between two lackeys that serve the same interests or will the electorate use its one day of participation in the democratic process to liberate the nation from the PARASITES that have it in their fangs -- that Australia, is the crucial question in this election?

The election is not about two PROVEN lackeys and flawed personalities but between the citizen majority and the wealthy, plutocratic, UNREPRESENTATIVE minority!

If there are no representative INDEPENDENTS in YOUR area then stand for parliament yourself; it is better and preferable to have a true patriot that has the nation's best interests at heart win a seat than have more lying lackeys in government that sell Oz down the river for personal fame/gain.

The most important thing to remember on election day is NOT to vote for the MAJOR PARTIES under ANY circumstances -- if Oz is to remain a relatively free viable democracy, voting for minor parties and INDEPENDENTS becomes IMPERATIVE!
