

Greatest Argument for Civil/Individual Action Against Obama and Bush Regime Officials

by judd Wednesday, Aug 28 2013, 1:56pm

international / prose / post

How ANYONE in the USA can sit by and allow this monumental injustice to occur is beyond belief. Obama's Dept of 'Justice' is about to grant 'absolute immunity' to Bush and key members of his criminal administration for the concerted, orchestrated and DELIBERATE LIES they disseminated that led to the illegal invasion of Iraq and the human holocaust that followed -- one million innocent civilians slaughtered and over four million Iraqis displaced and Obama is about to defy reason, logic, history, LAW and ORDER and grant immunity to the most heinous criminals of the century -- what the fuck is wrong with you America? What these actions CLEARLY amount to is one criminal administration covering for a previous criminal administration -- that is obvious! America, if Obama is allowed to get away with this legal travesty and offence to civilisation, then kiss your nation goodbye because it would confirm that the nation is completely in the hands of criminals.

It is known that numerous officials in the Bush regime, including Bush, fear travel and arrest outside the US, now it seems the long arm of the LAW is reaching inside the USA to apprehend the vilest criminal sociopaths known to contemporary history. Obama, for his part, as lackey and puppet extraordinaire, will no doubt do as he is told and grant the mass murderers immunity on the basis that they were simply doing their job -- dig that! Perhaps we should ask exactly what job at the time and how they performed their allotted tasks because the world would dearly love to know. But of course this is mere parading as the decision has already been made by the faceless, unrepresentative Plutocrats that own and run the USA -- you poor, dumb, American fucks!

The world distinctly remembers -- how could it forget(?) -- the Bush regime and its officials all singing in chorus, W-M-D and insisting they had proof -- ALL LIES, everyone lied through their teeth.

It remains to be seen whether this latest offence to everything civilised will be the straw that broke the back of a nation's conscience and moral integrity or whether the population accepts this outrageous criminal travesty. It is clear that Bush and his cohorts have much to answer for!

If that black lackey bastard dares grant immunity to mass murdering psychopaths then consider the nation lost and in the hands of criminals. The prerogative for the restoration of LAW and ORDER would then automatically fall to the people. Anyone that takes appropriate action to apprehend or punish the criminals would be regarded by history as a hero.

This latest insult to the American people and global population is too much -- we shall see.

It should not be forgotten that Manning and Snowden are being punished and pursued for revealing the crimes of a criminal STATE. What the fuck is wrong with you, America?

 Bush Pardon

<http://tinyurl.com/pmlr98o>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-778.html>