

Building 7 'Demolishes' 9/11 Lies

by sal Friday, Sep 27 2013, 11:03am

international / prose / post

There is something so overwhelmingly compromising to the government 9/11 story that it defies reason why the guilty haven't been brought to justice to date?

Anyone with a few brain cells could not rationally deny that multi-storied WTC building 7 was professionally brought down -- free fall -- on its own footprint, a superb demolitions job in fact! Building 7 compromises the entire orchestrated cesspool of lies propagated by the government and exposes the criminal plutocrats behind the plan to hijack American democracy and set the nation on a course of perpetual, illegal wars in order to feed their insatiable appetite for evermore material wealth.

I need not refer to the US military grade nano-thermite discovered at ground zero or to the thousands of feet of suppressed footage from the hundreds of surveillance cameras strategically placed around the Pentagon of a 'passenger jet' hitting the Pentagon precisely where the offices that were tracing the misappropriated trillions of Pentagon dollars were located -- only fools believe in convenient coincidences!

The only thing one need do is to focus on Building 7 and the entire charade is exposed -- simply because if one WTC building was intentionally brought down by controlled demolitions then they all were -- are you reading this Silverstein, Lowy and Mossad?

Building 7 suffered no major impact of any sort yet the sturdy steel frame structure collapsed floor by floor on cue onto its footprint -- an engineering impossibility unless intentionally planned.

Such was the public disbelief and outcry regarding WTC 7 that a government stooge appeared on the Dave Letterman Show denouncing expert opinion but offering no proof to counter reason, instead he questioned Letterman whether he too supported the popular (realistic) view and of course paid facilitator and moron Letterman, who doesn't know the difference between 'titled' and 'entitled,' replied, "no, I'm not one of those building 7 people!" A statement that amounts to an admission of complicit guilt, as no-one could be that stupid in view of the abundant, overwhelming and highly compromising video evidence available today.

Perhaps the US should adopt the policy of the new conservative government of Australia and simply remove all compromising data from the mass media/internet and restrict the flow of information going to the media in future. But this is a US story and it is the American people that have the opportunity for a successful full frontal attack on the criminals that have hijacked government and control Washington. Restoring representative democracy to a nation is not as difficult you imagine -- what is required is readily available.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Zv7BImVvEyk>

