

Reality Pill

by trudy Thursday, Sep 6 2012, 1:36am

international / prose / post

When it becomes painfully clear that governments are feeding the people a staple of deceit, lies, obfuscation and distractions and are not working in the best interests of the masses, CHANGE becomes an IMPERATIVE.

When TRUST has been forfeited by puppet politicians; when no thinking person has any faith in the system, an alternative does exist to which we can turn. However, there is a precondition and it's a biggy cos we have all been instilled since birth with the notion that we are powerless to act (alone/alienated) and that we must depend on our governments regardless of how corrupt, brazenly criminal and incompetent they are. Need I remind the WORLD of the outrageous LIES that led to the illegal invasions and OCCUPATIONS of the Balkans, Iraq, Afghanistan and numerous other 'soft' colonial takeovers/occupations, notably Australia, New Zealand, Canada etc.

When politicians promise reform and CHANGE and fail to deliver, or make outlandish reversals AFTER they gain power -- the Oz Carbon Tax, for example --- the masses DO HAVE A VIABLE ALTERNATIVE.

The 'biggy' I referred to above stares us in the face; it is the FIRST, obvious choice, the one we have ALL been thoroughly brainwashed to disregard and forget, have you guessed yet? Probably not, as we have also been weakened and drained of vitality and initiative by constant/perverse media barrages, new draconian 'laws' and oppressive social measures; in short we have been TERRORISED by the State and its compliant corrupt State Institutions.

Real CHANGE and evolution begins with the individual, we must learn to once again become psychologically INDEPENDENT. Looking outside ourselves for guidance and leadership has proven to be our demise so we must look within and tap our (inexhaustible) stores of STRENGTH. When social systems FAIL as completely as they have TODAY and JUSTICE has all but disappeared from the face of the earth and State sponsored terror programs become the norm we really have NO CHOICE but to act.

Once we regain our senses/identities, moral values and strength, only then are we capable of coming together to form EFFECTIVE movements.

If REAL change is desired then begin with self. As we free ourselves from the psychological shackles instilled since birth, we begin to see clearly and begin to recognise others that have embarked on the road to freedom. Instinctively we form alliances and friendships with like minded people of substance and character.

But FIRST begin with self; we can no longer accept the rule of LIARS, CRIMINALS, MASS MURDERERS and brazen THIEVES. Restoring justice and order to our societies is as simple as holding minority criminal elites to account for their OBVIOUS crimes. In that regard and while we battle to regain control of our minds/lives we are nevertheless able to support individuals that are NOW championing justice, law, order and civilised morality. Every person of conscience and moral conviction is invited to rally behind and SUPPORT Desmond Tutu's initiative to have Bush and Blair placed on trial for the OBVIOUS war and other crimes they have committed.

The REAL revolution begins with ourselves only then are we able to act together and RESTORE JUSTICE, PEACE and REPRESENTATIVE DEMOCRACY to our societies. The current system/status quo has FAILED COMPLETELY and can only deteriorate.

Supporting Archbishop Tutu is a good move in the right direction.

Peace.

 The Only Revolution - J. Krishnamurti

 The Urgency of Change - J. Krishnamurti

 The Flame of Attention - J. Krishnamurti

<http://www.presstv.ir/detail/2012/09/03/259624/world-needs-alternative-to-united-nation/>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-94.html>