

Toxic Boomerang

international / poetry / post

save ur entreaties,
and mute words
they fall like silent snow
on deaf ears

few of ur kind
could care less
and the earth
remains indifferent

life changes according to environmental circumstances,
nature endures
one way or the other,
it matters not

u lament ur own demise
weep for ur frailty
man
ur demise
now approaches at speed u were unable to save day therefore night is also lost an appropriate reaction always follows

a specific action,
everyone knows yet
the species dooms itself as a direct consequence of its inability to remedy
morally demanding problems

the climate is askew
creating new conditions for life but dooming other species that are unable to adapt (in time)

from this outcrop
the continuous landscape spreads in every direction but changes are now evident -- denial is the pursuit of fools and

cowards,
it is known
among all the religions that no cowards enter
paradise,
that realm is reserved for those with integrity, honesty and valour, a disappearing breed
on earth

do not cry for me
or ur victims
things are as right as rain
